

Connect with the best!

The IEEE International Requirements Engineering (RE) conference is the premier international conference on requirements engineering held annually in venues around the world (www.requirements-engineering.org). The conference usually draws 250-300 participants, mainly from academia, government and industry.

Following the theme of “Delivering Value through Better Requirements”, RE'16 will come to Beijing in middle September of 2016. It will offer an extensive program of interest to academia, government and industry. More than 300 people from all over the world will get together for five days to exchange experiences, improve how to work with requirements, business analysis, and product management, and have a great time. You are crucial as an industry sponsor to make sure the conference has a foothold in practice.

We want to make this a great event for all participants while showing the strength of Chinese software and hardware industries. This is a great chance for your company to talk to customers and future employees, make your products visible, expand your network, learn from competitors and partners, and initiate collaborations. All while getting up-to-date on the latest results for improving your practice.

There are a number of ways you can support and involve the event and help make this conference the best RE conference ever. We have five different sponsor packages, but there are also a number of key locations, events, and items to sponsor and put your logo on. At the conference, there will be an industry summit where you can present your company and products. At RE'16 in Beijing, you can both get up to speed with the area and make yourself known to the wider community!
